DOOMED MAN TALKS OF VERDICT OF JURY

Says His Troubles Began When He Moved to Alachua.
His Wife Has Been Released.

R. H. Owen, the white man who was found guilty of murder in the first degree without the usual recommendation of mercy, was seen at the county jail on Saturday afternoon and talked with the reporter concerning the verdict.

At first the man was very boastful and unreasonable, but by the persuasion of several of his fellow-prisoners, he was soon convinced that his vile epithets would get him nothing and he talked freely.

Among other things, Owen said: "I have always gotten along peaceably with my fellow-man and have never had any trouble until I arrived at Alachua, in this county, several months since. I had not been there long before they started on me and mine, and notwithstanding the fact that I repeatedly asked the protection of the officers, I was ignored and left to manage my affairs as best I could."

"I first appealed to Justice Caswell, later to Justice Bexley, who sent me to Judge Mason, and it was here that I tried on three different occasions to have justice given me, without avail. As a final resort, I wrote Judge Willis asking his interference in my behalf, with no result."

"My first trouble started on Sept. 14th, when I shot and wounded J. B. Martin, near Alachua, for an assault on my wife, and for which I was tried and I come clear, but it was with all of my year's work gone, for in the meantime parties there had taken everything I and my wife had made on the place and I was left almost destitute."

"With this condition of affairs confronting me, I heeded the advice of what I took to be friends and went to Jonesville and again engaged in farming on shares. It was here the second trouble occurred and I killed the men, both of them in defense of myself and wife."

"Following this killing I at once gave myself up to Deputy Wynn and you see the result of what I will now have to stand unless my attorneys will intervene in my behalf."

"The jury that was on my case have not given me due consideration and have taken my life from me, but I yet hope to have a new trial, when I hope for a change in the verdict."

Following this interview his wife and little babe appeared on the scene and it was rather pathetic to hear the baby cry and see the wife kiss her husband through the bars.

Charitably-inclined persons are willing to help the wife, and assistance is needed in her behalf just at the present time, or until next week, when her brother, who is a merchant of Hickox, Ga., will arrive here and probably take her to his home. He is in business in that place and would have come at once but for an accident, breaking his arm, which at the present time confines him to his bed.

The young wife is only 19 years of age, it is understood, and she married Owen against the will of her parents and relatives, but she still stands by the man of her choice and says that if he is hung, she, too, wants to meet the same fate with him.

What the woman needs now is clothing, shoes and something to eat, and it should be provided at once. State's Attorney Rivers, through pity for the little one, ordered Mrs. Owen released Saturday morning. The charge against her is still pending, however.

While at the jail the reporter was requested by Mr. Kelley, who is confined there charged with murder, to deny the report that he had made any threats against anyone who might testify against him. He speaks well, and the genial sheriff states he has acted a gentleman all during his confinement.

A little want ad. will accomplish big results.

MELROSE SEASON IS DRAWING TO CLOSE

MELROSE, March 27.—The Melrose season is about over and the exodus of the winter residents and visitors has begun and by the middle of April the last will be on their way home. Mr. C. P. Huffman reports having had a very satisfactory season, the hotel having been well-filled.

Real estate has been quite active lately. A. E. Pearsall, Westfield, N. J., becoming the owner of a lot formerly owned by F. W. Tolles, and J. Gardner, Atlanta, Ga., has bought the S. J. McGregor property. His arrival is expected soon. Other deals are still in prospect.

Little Maud Coward celebrated her seventh birthday on Monday by a very jolly party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sorg and daughter of Pittsburg, Pa., were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Waters on Tuesday.

Prof. H. H. Hulme, Glen St. Mary, and Dr. J. B. Curtis were in town Saturday. The Professor was much pleased with Melrose and the many pretty yards surrounding the cottages.

Mrs. E. J. Whitehead entertained a number of friends very pleasantly at cards at the Ladies' Hall on Monday afternoon.

The item in The Times-Union "Short Talks" of March 20th concerning the safety of school buildings fits the Melrose school exactly. It is to be hoped that something will be done before the next session, and before the long-expected trouble happens.

The good work by cutting down all the umbrella and chinaberry trees is still going on. It is to be wished that all owners of such trees would follow the good example and thereby help to stop the whitefly from injuring the orange trees.

today and the couple will be formally arraigned on a charge of kidnapping in a few days.

Boyle feared violence on his arrival in Mercer, and on the journey from Pittsburg asked Sheriff Chess if he thought the crowd would harm him. The prisoner looked greatly relieved when he saw only a scattering of people at the Mercer station.

Boyle was hurried into a waiting bus and taken to the jail, where he was locked in a cell on the second tier. An armed guard was placed in front of Boyle's cell and a patrolman will be stationed outside the jail all night. Sheriff Chess said that the jail would be guarded until the trial of the Boyles is over.

The officials questioned the prisoner about his wife's identity, but other than to say that there was no question about the fact that he was married he would say nothing.

FIRE DESTROYS BERRY PATCH.

Peculiar Misfortune Happens to a Starke Berry Grower.

Judge G. A. Gardiner had the misfortune Sunday of having his entire strawberry patch of one and a half acres destroyed by fire. Mr. Gardiner and his family, who live on the Ralston road about two miles from Starke, were away from home that day and fire had dropped in the grass between the road and the fence, and the dry grass with which the strawberry plants had been mulched was soon in a blaze, causing the destruction of the plants. Had it not been for a colored woman who lives nearby Mr. Gardiner's home and outbuildings would also have been destroyed, but the woman, by heroic work throwing down fencing and whipping out fire, saved the buildings.

The plants were loaded with berries and Mr. Gardiner had all hopes for a prosperous shipping season. His many friends sympathize with him in his loss.—Starke Telegraph.

"BURY THIS WITH MY BODY, UNOPENED"

Were the Last Words Written by Mrs. Pierre Lorillard About Mysterious Trinkets.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—In the folds of her shroud, the material evidence of the death secret of Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., is sealed with her body on its final journey to the grave. The funeral party left the Lorillard residence at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon for New York. At the old home of the Lorillards at Irvington-on-Hudson the casket will be interred.

The departure from the city furnished another of the dramatic events which have characterized the death by suicide of this prominent woman. At the very hour, when the first social circles of the Capital in which Mrs. Lorillard had been accorded such a prominent part, were crowding the aristocratic Massachusetts avenue, the body of the deceased was driven rapidly down that thoroughfare toward the station. The husband, one of the famous Lorillards or the tobacco business and prominent club man and sportsman, and his son, Perry, by their own preference were the only mourners.

The funeral ceremonies had been conducted at 12:30 o'clock. A few of Mrs. Lorillard's most intimate friends, principally those who gathered with her the night of her death at the dinner given by Mrs. Richard Townsend, were present. Among those were the Belgian minister and Baroness Moncheur, Mrs. Chauncey Depew, Mrs. Meyer, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, and the Hon. Maude Pauncefoot, daughter of the former British ambassador to this country. Rev. Roland Cotton Smith of St. John's Episcopal church officiated at the services, which occupied only half an hour.

Shortly afterward the dramatic event of the day occurred, when Dr. J. Ramsey Nevitt, the coroner, laid away in the folds of the shroud the notes and the mysterious trinkets found on Mrs. Lorillard's body after her death.

Contrary to the general understanding Mrs. Lorillard wrote neither of the notes after she returned from the Townsend dinner. It is now believed that the only words she wrote on the morning of her death was on an envelope that contained the notes and the trinkets. They were: "Bury this with my body, unopened." The ink with which these words were written had been freshly smeared over the face of the envelope. Its freshness was in marked contrast with the ink of the two notes.

Another fact that has been brought out is that one of the notes was addressed to Mrs. Lorillard and was in the handwriting of another person. The second note had been written by Mrs. Lorillard evidently many days before her death. The note to Mrs. Lorillard is said to have been addressed to her in an informal way.

The trinkets consisted of a chain to which was attached some pendants of little intrinsic value, reminding those who have beheld them of the high school days of girls.

The envelope in which the notes and trinkets were placed was not found until hours after the death, when the undertaker was preparing the body for burial.

Clark Says Payne Bill Simply Postpones Evil Day

WASHINGTON, March 27.—"The most easily understood feature of the Payne bill is that it increases the authorization of the interest-bearing bonds from $100,000,000 to $250,000,000 in any one year to run for that year, and that, too, in a period of profound peace. To issue bonds, thereby creating a new indebtedness, is simply postponing the evil day for they must be paid at last with interest."

Minority Leader Champ Clark was talking on the Payne tariff bill. And practically in the opening sentence he directed attention to a feature in the bill the importance of which has been overlooked by nearly everyone.

The authorization of an additional $150,000,000 bond issue—in any one year to run for that year—as Mr. Clark pointed out, means something. Briefly, this is what it means: Because of the unparalleled extravagance of the Republican party in the last eight years, the Government is spending more than $100,000,000 every year in excess of what it takes in. In the coming four years the deficit, according to estimates already made, will double the one hundred million dollar mark. The administration finds that even though the Payne bill should become a law, not nearly enough revenue can be raised to offset the extravagance of the machine in charge of the Government appropriations. How can a crisis be averted or delayed? was the question before the Ways and Means Committee. Two ways outside of taxes suggested themselves. One was to cut down expenses. That would mean "no jobs for lame ducks" and decreased appropriations for political navy yards. The Ways and Means Committee decided the easiest way for the Republican party to "get from under" would be via an increased bond issue.

"The framers of the Payne bill," said Mr. Clark, "do not use the popular word 'bond,' but substitute therefor the more euphonious word 'certificate,' which should mislead no one for a 'certificate' and a 'bond' are one and the same."

"We insist that instead of an increase of taxes or a new issue of interest-bearing certificates or bonds, the correct remedy for the growing deficiency in the revenues is the Jeffersonian principle of 'economy' in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened."

"Why not," said Mr. Clark, turning his attention to some of the schedules in the Payne bill that are no improvement over those of the Dingley bill, "give the consumers cheaper blankets and flannels and at the same time replenish the treasury? How can any man claim that the Payne bill is a bona fide revision downward while it contains some of the monstrous provisions which it does. For instance, the specific duty on a pound of unwashed wool of the first class is 11 cents; consequently on a pound of blankets or flannels worth not more than 40 cents per pound the specific duty is 22 cents. This never varies, but to that is added the 20 per cent ad valorem, which does vary. In practice the result is that on that class of blankets and flannels the compound

Fight Narrowly Averted On Floor of the House

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—Through a misunderstanding Representative Byrd of Missouri and Representative Fordney of Michigan almost came to blows on the floor of the House yesterday while the latter was making a speech on the tariff. Mr. Fordney, in response to numerous questions relative to the existence of a lumber trust, was contending that no combination of lumber manufacturers exists.

Mr. Byrd asked Mr. Fordney if it was not true that a combination exists among the retail dealers of Mississippi, to which Mr. Fordney's firm, which is operating in that State, was a party. Mr. Byrd added that he knew whereof he spoke when he charged the existence of such a combination.

"The gentleman does not know a d— thing about it," shouted Mr. Fordney irritably.

Immediately Mr. Byrd made his way toward Mr. Fordney, but several Democratic members stopped him before he could reach the former.

Mr. Fordney immediately apologized to the House for the profanity and said that if he had offended the gentleman from Mississippi he most humbly apologized. He added, however, that Mr. Ford could not say that his firm was a member of the lumber trust.

Mr. Byrd then explained that it was not his intention to make such a charge and the incident was closed.

Kidnapper of Billy Whitla Fears Vengeance of Mob

MERCER, Pa., March 27.—Heavily manacled to Sheriff Chess and guarded by several detectives James Boyle, one of the kidnapers of little Willie

Whitla, was brought here yesterday from Pittsburg and lodged in the Mercer county jail. His wife, it is said, will be brought here from Pittsburg

UNIVERSITY NOTES

The annual address before the graduates will be delivered during the approaching commencement week by Dr. Jas. H. Dillard. Dr. Dillard is a native of Virginia and is a graduate of the Washington and Lee University. Since his graduation he has held several important positions in the educational world. At first principal of the Norfolk, Va., Male Academy, then president of Mercer Institute of St. Louis, and recently professor of Latin and dean of the College of Liberal Arts of Tulane University. Dr. Dillard has now accepted the chairmanship of the board in control of the Jeanes Fund of three million dollars for the advancement of education in the South.

Dr. Dillard is the author of several books and was a member of the "committee of ten" to standardize instruction in Latin. He has been prominent in the "church clubs" of the Episcopal church, and has appeared quite often on the lecture platform. The audience on "graduation day" will no doubt be greatly pleased with the address of the occasion.

The first of the "University Studies" has just appeared. This series is intended to include the theses of all graduates with the M. S. or M. A. degree. Number 1 is the graduating thesis of H. S. Fawcett, a member of the Experiment Station staff, and embodies his work on the fungus deadly to the whitefly. It is an extremely careful and scholarly piece of work and reflects great credit upon the author. If the standard set by Mr. Fawcett for the "University Studies" is maintained, the series will be one of which any university might well be proud.

Experiment Station Bulletin Nos. 96 and 97 have just been printed and are now being distributed. The former is on "Steer Feeding" by John M. Scott; the latter treats of "Whitefly Studies in 1908," and is by Dr. E. W. Berger.

Charles Fisher, a graduate of the class of 1907, is paying us a visit and brushing up his knowledge of military tactics under Major Walker. Mr. Fisher has just received his appointment as a third lieutenant in the Philippine constabulary.

One of the most interesting meetings of the year of the Athenaeum

Club was held Friday evening, on which occasion Prof. John Bell, of the Experiment Station, read a paper on "Phylogeny and Facts."

Mr. Wilson, assistant chemist at the Experiment Station, is enjoying a leave of absence. He is secretary of the Harvard Club of North Carolina, and is now accompanying ex-President Eliott of Harvard on a trip through North Carolina. Among the places the party has visited and at which Dr. Eliott has spoken are Asheville, Guilford College, Trinity College, and the State Normal College for Women at Greensboro.

Prof. Rolfs has been absent from Gainesville recently to attend the meeting of State Superintendents at Lake City, and also to deliver addresses at the DeFuniak Springs Chautauqua.

At the recent meeting of the "Transit Club" bridges and trestles were discussed, the leader being Student Rader, of Miami. This association of engineering students is proving of great benefit to the members in their work, and the social meetings add much to the pleasure of the life at the University.

Capt. Cox has a very fine projectoscope and one or two evenings recently has given exhibitions to the students.

The athletic committee is making arrangements for the annual aquatic sports, which take place in April.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

Last Meeting Was Held With Mrs. W. B. Taylor, March 22nd.

The Twentieth Century Club met March 22nd with Mrs. W. B. Taylor at her beautiful home on West Liberty street, with Mrs. W. L. Hill, the president, in the chair.

Mrs. A. L. Foster, one of our honored charter members, was made an honorary life member for her very efficient work in the club, and for the library.

After an interesting business session, in which matters of importance to the club were discussed, Mrs. J. M. Dell, Jr., leader for the afternoon, took the chair. The opening number on the program was a beautiful instrumental solo by Miss Alma Fennell. The roll-call was answered to by quotations from Sidney Lanier; then music by Miss Fennell.

Mrs. W. B. Taylor read a most interesting biography of Sidney Lanier by Miss Caroline Brevard.

Mrs. W. S. Dorsey, Miss Ruth Doig, and Miss Elizabeth Taylor favored the club with choice musical selections.

Mrs. Gross read the "Marshes of Glynn," one of Sidney Lanier's exquisite poems.

Mrs. J. M. Dell, Jr., read selections from one of Lanier's letters to his wife, giving an insight into his character.

The hostess served delicious refreshments, after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Medlin and Mrs. Gross, at Mrs. Medlin's residence, April 5th. PRUSS REPORTER.

ON AND OFF CHAT ABOUT FAT.

The society reporter picked up the following gem at Madam Brewster's not twenty-four hours ago. One of her millionaire customers struggling into a new gown asked the famous costumer how she kept her figure in such superb shape. "You habitually eat and drink heartily and even thoughtlessly, not to say riotously, at times," she complained, "whereas I live like a hermit. Yet I can't keep slim and, apparently, you can't get fat." "Guilty," replied the fashion czarina. "I admit I don't fatten up nor do I thin down, but it is because I have the power, my dear Mrs. — (the name almost slipped out), to say to my fat 'Thus far and no farther.' I don't exercise nor diet nor run any danger of wrinkles or stomach trouble either. Here is the secret." She wrote a few words on a slip of paper and handed it to her questioner. "Get that filled at the druggist's," she concluded, "take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime and you will never get any fatter than you want to be. You can take off a pound a day with this receipt, if you want to."

Being fat herself and fully alive to the tremendous value of these statements to fat folks everywhere, the society reporter committed an unpardonable social sin; she peeped over the lady's shoulder—and this is what she saw: For Excess Fat, simplest, safest, cheapest, most helpful receipt of any: One-half ounce Marmola, ¼ ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, ¾ ounces Peppermint Water.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ"—An exquisite hair dressing

Herpicide Girls

THE LADIES OBJECT to a gummy and sticky hair dressing or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY must have pretty hair. The features may be quite plain or even homely, yet if the head is crowned with an abundance of beautiful hair, attractiveness will not be lacking. The poet says: "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." Herpicide gives the hair a charming distinctiveness that is characteristic of no other hair dressing.

DISEASED HAIR A MISFORTUNE. Unightly or diseased hair is a misfortune in more ways than one. There is the actual injury to the hair follicles and the consequent loss or thinning of the hair; this may cause diseases that sometimes follow a removal or thinning of nature's protection to the head. A diseased condition of the hair affects woman's disposition to a marked degree. If the hair is dull, brittle and lifeless, owing to the presence of a microbic growth, the effect is to dampen one's spirits and cause a loss of interest in personal appearance. The use of Newbro's Herpicide overcomes the ravages of the dandruff microbe, after which the natural beauty and abundance of the hair will return as nature intended. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide. Gentle-men will find Newbro's Herpicide in use at all important barber shops.

Mildred Lee Chapter Hold Interesting Session on Friday.

The members of Mildred Lee Chapter, U. D. C., held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. J. L. Kelley on Friday afternoon when they elected delegates to the State convention to be held in St. Augustine.

Misses Francis McDowall and Lucile Glass were chosen by the chapter to represent them and after the transaction of the usual routine of business the meeting adjourned.

At this meeting it was decided to have an Easter egg hunt, on April 10, preceding the day, the time and place to be announced later.

A Religious Author's Statement.

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Sales Are Paying.

C. W. Hill, the advertising man and window decorator for the G. W. Hyde Company, is a new convert in the special advertising line. For the past few weeks they have been testing the columns of The Sun as a business getter and have been making special runs on certain lines of goods, but never has the rush been like that of Saturday. He declares that by 8 o'clock on Saturday morning half of the dresses included in the Saturday sale were gone and long before the noon hour they were completely out of the goods. Last night special hour attractions also proved business-bringers.

PAPER FACTORY WILL ONLY BE DELAYED

MR. WILLIAMSON STATES THAT MATTER WILL BE PUSHED.

Organization of the Proposed Company Was About Completed and Plans Finished.

All Gainesville will hail with delight the news that the paper mill proposed and talked of for some time past will finally be perfected.

The Sun reporter called upon B. F. Williamson Saturday and he gave out this gratifying news, and while he would have liked to have gone into the matter more fully, the urgent business matters that he is now looking after required his attention and it is impossible to stop at this particular time.

He stated that the matter would necessarily be delayed owing to the death of its great promoter, but that the business had assumed such proportions that it would not and could not be dropped at this stage for the mere want of attention.

The organization for the proposed mill has practically been completed, and at the time of Mr. Chase's death plans were working that would have brought results within a few months.

Just how long the matter will be delayed could not be stated, but Mr. Williamson, who has all along managed the work of making the paper and planning for this part of the business, will be able to give the citizens and the public some definite information regarding same within a short while.

Plans for the erection of the building plant and houses have all about been completed, and the edition of The Sun which is to appear on the paper made from this process will give the illustrations within the very near future.

BURKIM'S PIANO CONTEST.

The High School Still Making Big Gains Each Week.

The private contest is now attracting considerable attention among the friends of the High School and they are gaining every day in their vote-getting. Judging from the way in which their supporters have rallied during the past two weeks it will be easy sailing for the school, for outside of the candidate for the band, there is practically no work being done by its members.

Following is the result of the score as it stood last night:

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold; the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Then then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy." For sale by all druggists.

Parties having job printing done at The Sun office are entitled to one vote in the Bush & Safford Piano Contest for each cent paid for such work. Don't forget this when in need of printed stationery. duties when reduced to ad valorem duties ran as low as 88.65 per cent in 1899 and as high as 125.10 per cent in 1901, and fell to 107.60 per cent in 1907, the last year for which we have the figures. These are the cheapest blankets and flannels. To show how nearly prohibitive those rates are, it is only necessary to state that in 1907 we imported that kind of blankets and flannels to the value of $316 only, and the tariff on the same amounted to $340.32. On blankets and flannels valued at more than 40 cents and not more than 50 cents per pound the rate in 1907 was 106.12 per cent ad valorem, of which we imported $219 worth only, and upon which we paid $232.41 tariff.

"On blankets and flannels more than three yards in length valued at not more than 40 cents per pound the rates in both the Dingley and Payne bills are 33 cents per pound, and 50 per cent ad valorem, which in operation amounted in 1907 to 165.42 and in 1906 to 182.71 per cent. In 1907 we imported blankets and flannels of that kind of the infinitesimal value of $40.60, on which we paid tariff duties of $67.16. Yet the framers of the Payne bill, for some inscrutable reason, let these prohibitive rates stand at a time when the deficiency in the revenues is startling and worrying the country. I say that the consumer should have been given cheaper blankets, when, had the framers of the Payne bill seen fit to have done so, would have at the same time brought more money into the treasury."

LETTER TO J. D. STRINGFELLOW, Gainesville, Florida.

Dear Sir: Suppose you are feeding pigs milk; how much will you gain by watering milk a quarter half? three-quarters?

100 quarts whole milk they sleep
80 of milk and 20 of water they squeal
50 " 50 " more squeal
25 " 75 " still squeal
0 " 100 " no squeal

Suppose you are painting a house; how much will you gain by paint adulterated a quarter? half? three-quarters?

10 gallons Devoe put-on $50
15 " ¼ not paint 75
20 " ⅓ " 100
40 " ½ " 200

The cost of paint put-on is about $5 a gallon, no matter what paint you buy.

But nobody really gets 40 gallons on a 10-gallon job; so nobody really pays $200 for painting a $50 job; he stops at about $100. Two coats of ¼-paint-and-¾-trash doesn't make a good job; nor three; nor four.

These lessons are useful.
Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.
P. S.: The Gainesville Hardware Co. sell our paint.

Gone to Alabama.

W. W. King, president of the King Lumber Company, the successful contractors for the Government building, left yesterday for Selma, Ala., where he goes to look after a contract from the Government now being worked there. He has contracted here for his sand, rock and all such material that can be bought with the exception of the brick matter, and this will be awarded to the Denham Brick Company if the sand-cement brick made by them is accepted by the Government.

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by all druggists.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

We want to show you in this short, but honest and reasonable talk, how and why S. S. S. cures Old Sores. We do not claim that S. S. S. works wonders, but we do know it will cure sores and ulcers, and its record of forty years past abundantly justifies this confidence.

Any old sore shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it of unhealthy matter from the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A long spell of fever, or other sickness, breeds disease germs in the system; the failure of nature's eliminative members to remove the waste and refuse matters of the body, the excessive use of minerals in certain diseases, infected wounds, bites and stings of insects, etc., all contaminate the blood with morbid matter and germs which sooner or later manifest their presence by a sore or ulcer which refuses to heal under the ordinary treatment of local applications.

External treatment can never cure a chronic sore or ulcer, because it does not reach the blood. The place will remain open as long as it is used as a drainage for the impurity which is in the blood, and in addition to the worry and anxiety caused by an old sore, there is always danger of its becoming cancerous, if a cure is not effected. Purify the blood, and nourish the flesh with a rich, healthy circulation, and then the place will heal of its own accord.

S. S. S. cures old sores by removing the causes which produce them. It goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and poisons, and by nourishing the flesh with rich, pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but, being the greatest of all blood purifiers, it begins at the bottom and by rebuilding broken down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the circulation, causes the place to fill in with firm, healthy flesh, while it steadily but surely removes the cause and effects a permanent cure. The sore cannot remain when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

ON TOUR OF INSPECTION.

United States Army Officer Reviews Gainesville Guards.

Maj. Wm. F. Hancock of Fort Barrancas, Pensacola, was in the city Friday for the purpose of reviewing the Gainesville Guards and making the annual inspection of the company.

This inspection is required every year by the United States Government and must be made by some officer in command. Owing to other important matters the inspection was not as rigid as formerly on such occasions, but it was sufficient to show the boys how Uncle Sam handles his army of men.

The showing made by the Guards was very creditable and nearly the entire company were present on the occasion—only those that were compelled to be absent remaining away.

Death of M. A. Starr.

The many friends throughout this section will be pained to learn of the death of Capt. M. A. Starr, the efficient night yard master for High Springs. His death occurred at the company's hospital in Waycross and was the result of continued illness. For many years Captain Starr held one of the important runs of the company but was placed in charge of the yards when a large number of trains were taken off.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup.

"Besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequaled as a cure for croup," says Harry Wilson, of Waynetown, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by all druggists.

Too Great a Strain.

Every once in awhile the actor while taking the part of a duke in a play would spend large sums of his stage money. On one of these occasions it seemed too much for a certain person in the audience, for a voice rang shrill and clear through the house, "Hey, Bill, how about that five you owe me?"—Exchange.

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

Savannah Market Ruled Quiet Past Week, With Narrow Demand.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 27.—The market for Sea Islands ruled quiet to dull with a narrow demand, and closed quiet and easier. Prices were unchanged from the week before, and a good part of the light sales represented shipments of cotton previously bought.

The final report on ginning showed a total of 93,848 bales, against 86,895 last year. The total for the present year was somewhat larger than generally expected.

Sales for the week were 311 bales.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Gainesville residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

Oscar Osterman, of Starke, Fla., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest recommendation as they proved of more benefit to me than any other remedy I had previously used. I suffered from kidney trouble for some time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I was forced to arise from six to eight times during the night. I also had backache and was bothered by a pain through my loins. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon helped me. By the time I had taken the contents of two boxes, the backaches and pains entirely disappeared and the passages of the kidney secretions soon became regular. I now feel fifty per cent better than before in a long time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to get a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

Little Billy Whitla's abduction cost his papa $260, the amount of the $10,000 ransom not recovered, but he has been the most-talked-of boy in the country for a week or more.

Judge Wall at Tampa, in a suit brought by the board of county commissioners to determine whether the board or the sheriff has the right to appoint the county jailor, ruled that the selection rests entirely with the sheriff.

With automobiles largely supplanting the horse in the White House stables, it is hardly to be supposed that the famous "riding tests" instituted by Mr. Roosevelt will continue to be the bete noire of the army officer of ample proportions.

The Sun's Washington correspondent says a petition has been sent to Congress from eighty-six lumber firms in Alabama and Florida protesting against the reduction of the duty on lumber, and urging Senators and Representatives from these States to vote against any reduction in the duty on lumber and its products.

Should there be no appeal taken from the verdict rendered in the case of Owen, the man convicted of murder in the first degree Friday, his execution will be the first of a legal nature to occur in Alachua county in many years, and the first white man ever hanged here by lawful process. The first legal hanging in Gainesville took place in 1875 when Jim Monroe was executed for murder, and the last to occur here was that of Richard James convicted of wife-murder on Dec. 22, 1897. He was hanged during the early part of 1898. Two other negroes were hanged between the dates mentioned, John Lee and John Hardy.

The President has the right to maintain forty cadets at the Military Academy at West Point, and twenty at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, filling the vacancies as they occur by reason of graduation or discharge for deficiency. It has been the practice to confine these appointments almost entirely to the sons of army and navy officers, with the result that much influence is brought to bear on the White House to obtain the few coveted appointments each year. Mr. Taft has under consideration plans for making these appointments after competitive tests, as he believes it would be more fair to the large number of candidates whose applications are on file if the selections were determined by examination, limited to the class hitherto recognized. This plan would be an excellent one as it would not only relieve the President of the great pressure that is always brought to bear for these appointments, but would also remove, in a measure, the discontent of these who are necessarily left out.

PENSACOLA QUILTS.

Several weeks ago the sheriff of Escambia county announced that he proposed to enforce every law upon the statute books with reference to the observance of Sunday.

This meant that he would not only put a stop to all forms of petty traffic on that day, but that he would put an end to the running of trains, the loading of ships, the manufacturing of ice, the operating of street car lines, and other industries which under modern conditions have come to be looked upon as necessities on every day of the week.

But Pensacola has seen the futility of trying to enforce antiquated and obsolete blue laws, and has quit.

The city, the sheriff and the people have seen the uselessness of trying to put an end to modern conditions and turning back the hands on the clock of time.

The reaction has come, as come it must, and Pensacola, according to advices sent out by the wire, is as wide open as ever it was.

The thirsty Pensacolan can get his soda water on Sunday. He may even purchase a cigar on that day, or buy a newspaper.

Pleasure boats with happy excursionists once more ply the waters of the bay, and on last Sunday, so it is said, there were two cracking good games of baseball played on the home grounds.

It was ever thus when the pendulum swings the other way.—Miami News-Record.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Chattanooga Times says: "The legislators are still wrestling with the problem: What to do with pistototing. Just for an experiment, suppose we try removing discretion from judges to the jail sentence. If a law is intended to be enforced it ought to be enforced. Embody all exemptions and exceptions in the law itself and make it just as much a crime to sell as it is to buy, and there are chances that the evil will be minimized. As it is, the penalty doesn't fit the crime at all. The present method of dealing with the question is a failure."

The Washington Post says: "As for the inheritance tax, already protests are coming in from the legislatures, declaring that this source of revenue belongs to the States. The protests are likely to become loud and powerful if this plan of increasing the Government's income should be widely discussed in Congress. President Taft has blocked out clearly the task that confronts Congress. Now let the Republican majority, which is the responsible party, go ahead and adjust the revenue to the expenditures, bearing in mind the fact that every day of unnecessary debate is itself a heavy tax upon the people."

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "Mr. Cannon's Democratic allies in the House get their rewards promptly. Their defection is only another illustration of the fact that the Democrats are usually divided enough on any policy to insure them only defeat. They get a little in this instance, with the help of rebellious Republicans, when they might have got all they desired. But let them reform their lines and charge again, at the proper time. Just now they can do the country no better service than to expedite the disposition of the tariff bill, with any Democratic features they may be able to engraft upon it."

The Hartford Times says: "A remarkable modification of the system of direct nomination has been attempted by the Montana Legislature, which has passed a law forbidding the nominations of candidates for the State judicial offices by political parties and requiring that only those candidates shall be voted for who have been nominated by a certificate signed by a percentage of the voters, each of whom must also record his place of residence and his business occupation. The aim is, of course, to divorce the judiciary entirely from politics. It will be interesting to watch this new experiment in Governmental methods, in which our Western commonwealths are so fruitful."

The Columbia (S. C.) State says: "Mr. Dickinson is not a Democrat of course. Neither, so he says, is he a Republican. What then is the answer? The Augusta Chronicle suggests the one word: 'politician.' But we shall be more polite with Mr. Dickinson. We shall say that he is an Independent, or Mugwump. He doesn't vote with the Democrats regularly, and doesn't vote with the Republicans at all, so he says. So the only thing Mr. Dickinson may be charged with is Mugwumpery. He has lost his bearings; he doesn't know where he is in politics, and so he must be pardoned for his inclination to sit on the fence. So much for the political status of the new Secretary of War."

The Philadelphia Record says: "Sugar planters in Cuba insist that the prosperity of the island is in a large measure dependent upon the prosperity of the sugar trade. The sugar trade in turn will be profitable or unprofitable as the market for raw sugar in the United States is made accessible or out of reach by reason of reciprocal or antagonistic tariff rates. When the planters can sell their sugar at advantage they furnish work for the otherwise unemployed. When there is no work the distress brings on turbulence, reprisal and revolutionary enterprises. More revolution would make necessary further American intervention. The planters argue it would be financially more advantageous for the people of the United States to let the Cubans supply them with cheap sugar than to maintain in the island an army of occupation to keep peace and preserve order."

The names of qualified electors of the city of Gainesville appear elsewhere in this issue of The Sun. The list is not as lengthy as last year, many neglecting to pay their poll tax, but it may be that in its preparation the names of some who have qualified were omitted, hence it would be advisable to read the list carefully. If you hold a poll tax receipt for 1908 and your name does not appear, Clerk J. Maxey Dell will rectify the error.

The Florida Press Association will convene in annual session in St. Augustine Tuesday, continuing till April 1st. The great Ponce de Leon celebration will also be in progress at the same time.

Wormology.

Should be studied by every parent. If your child is nervous, fretful, starts in it's sleep, is pasty faced, has rings under its eyes, always seems hungry, is not gaining weight, you can be sure the trouble is worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is an absolute cure for worms. Is it's own purgative. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Teaching Cubs to Kill.

Have you ever seen a cat catch a mouse and hand it over to her kittens to teach them how to kill? Well, a tiger is merely a big cat, and she teaches her cubs almost in the same way, only not with mice. An East Indian officer witnessed a scene of this kind. An old bull bison had been the victim, and the tigress had disabled him by breaking one of his forelegs just below the knee. She never touched the throat, the usual place of killing, but allowed the cubs to worry the disabled animal. The eyewitness relates that the cubs acted exactly like kittens, advanced and retreated and worried the victim, all the time mewing and snarling, while the tigress sat near by, watching their antics and occasionally giving the bison a blow with her paw when he showed undue activity.

A Hurry-Up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large size?

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 299, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

ORIENTAL SERVANTS.

All Around Ability of the Indispensable "Boy" in India.

In these days of loud wailing about the haughty domestic, exorbitant wages and small returns it is soothing to recall the efficiency and submissive service of the oriental servant.

In India the indispensable "boy" does everything—"boy" being a generic name regardless of age or native dignity—receiving in remuneration the equivalent of $12 to $14 a month at the most. He buys your railroad tickets, checks your luggage, settles the clamors of luggage coolies, gives your tips and shoes away the hordes of beggars, telegraphs to hotels for your rooms and takes care of them when you get there, makes the bed, brings the afternoon tea, stands behind your chair at table and serves you, brings your account when you leave and wrangles for you over its inevitable extortions.

At the dark bungalows he forages for your meals and, if necessary, cooks them. He produces washmen, sewing men and all sorts of dealers in everything on demand. He makes up your bed on sleeping cars and replenishes your supply of ice and soda. He runs your errands, cleans your boots and hats, darts your stockings and mends your clothes.

When you walk abroad, he attends you and directs you to the bazaars where you will be robbed least, receiving his commission later from an appreciative proprietor.

For every rupee intrusted to him for general expenditure he renders an account, and though he doubtless robs you gently he does not let others do it (and it is distinctly advantageous to be robbed by one person rather than a score).

He is silent and noiseless, salaams whenever you speak to him and never enters your presence with his shoes on or his turban off.

And finally, his multifarious day ended, he wraps himself in his shawl and sleeps across your threshold.—New York Tribune.

Llanos of Venezuela.

Venezuela received its musical name from the early Spanish residents, who saw a resemblance to Venice in the sites of the inland cities. The llanos, or bleak plains, on which the llaneros live a precarious life, have largely changed their character since Humboldt saw them. Then these great plains of grass supported innumerable herds of cattle, but civil war led to the destruction of the beasts to feed the insurgents. The llanos are now rapidly becoming a potential source of timber.

SAW THE GHOST.

A Story That Stood the Test of a Court of Law.

As a circumstantial ghost story and one that stood the cold scrutiny of a court of law Booty's case is without a parallel. The date given is 1688, when Mrs. Booty brought an action for slander against one Captain Barnaby for what he had said of her late husband. According to an extract from a journal produced in court, dated Friday, May 15, 1687, the captain on that day went ashore with a large party of friends to shoot rabbits upon Stromboli, the island off Italy, which, from its ever burning crater, is called "the lighthouse of the Mediterranean." At about 3:30 in the afternoon two men were seen running toward the volcano, which was emitting flames. Captain Barnaby then exclaimed, "Lord bless me, the foremost is old Booty, my next door neighbor." They then vanished in the flames, a fact of which every one present took note.

Upon Captain Barnaby's return to England he learned that "old Booty" had died just about the time of the strange occurrence at Stromboli. He then made the remark which was the subject of the action, that he "had seen old Booty running into the flames of hell pursued by the devil." Mrs. Booty claimed £1,000 as damages, and the case came on in the king's bench before the chief justice, Sir Robert Wright. For the defense, in addition to the testimony of Captain Barnaby and his friends, old Booty's clothes were brought into court and identified by several witnesses as being similar to those worn by the foremost man who ran into the crater—even to the peculiar buttons on the coat. The judge was so impressed by this evidence that he said: "Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three may be mistaken, but not thirty." And so Booty's widow lost the day, and the case remains, perhaps, as the only judicially accepted ghost story on record.—London Chronicle.

Sound in the Air.

A writer in the Strand Magazine describes the astonishment he experienced when riding over London in a balloon at a height of more than half a mile he heard the deafening roar of the great city beneath him as it could not be heard when on the ground. The noise, even at that height, was so harsh and intense as to be painful to the ear. How perfect a sound conductor the air is was shown when the balloon drifted far over the city to a wooded part of the country, where the murmur of the leaves moved by the wind, half a mile below, was distinctly heard.

"My three-year-old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orino Laxative saved his life." A Wolkush, Casimer, Wis. J. W. McCollum & Co.

A Road Made of Ants.

Of the ants in Venezuela Professor Hiram Bingham says: "At one place on the sandy trail the ants had formed a living causeway over the fine sand of the path in order to facilitate the great speed at which the majority wished to travel. The causeway was over two inches wide and from one to three ants deep. So firmly did the 'bridgelines' hold together, I lifted the causeway four inches from the ground by thrusting a stick underneath without breaking their formation."

FOR CITY MARSHAL.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville:

I am a candidate for City Marshal, for re-election on April 13. I have served the people faithfully and efficiently, night and day, and my record is open for inspection.

If my service during the past year has been satisfactory I ask the support and vote of each and every citizen who is qualified. I can only promise the same service as I have endeavored to give in the past.

Yours for order,
BEN T. ARNOW.

I take this method of informing the public that I am a candidate for City Marshal at the election to be held on April 13, 1909. I respectfully solicit the support of all voters, irrespective of party affiliation, and promise to faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of the office should I be elected. Respectfully,

CHAS. C. WARREN.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville:

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for City Tax Assessor for the year 1909. Having been Tax Assessor for four years, I am fully prepared to fill the office, as my record will show, the city assessment having been increased in that time from a little over $600,000 to over $1,000,000. I was prevented from running for this office last year on account of sickness, and now respectfully solicit your votes.

W. M. BRADFORD.

To the Voters of Gainesville:

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of City Tax Assessor for the year 1909, in the election to be held on April 13th, and most earnestly request you all to give me your vote and support for the position.

Thanking you for your past endorsement, I remain, Yours very truly,
B. R. COLSON.

Posted on Music.

In one of the large music publishers' establishments on Broadway there is a man whose employment it is to become acquainted with all the music of the day, both classical and "popular." When prospective purchasers are unable to enlighten the other clerks of the place as to what they want to buy, they are referred to him as a court of last appeal.

"I wish to get a piece that has been running through my head ever since I heard it," says the distracted customer, "but the trouble is I don't know the title or the composer's name."

"How does it go?" inquires the specialist sweetly.

"Something like this: Tum-ti-ti, tum-ti-ti."

"Ah, yes; you will get it at the second counter to your right. Ask for the 'Pink Waves Waltz' by Straws."

And the remarkable thing about it is that he has seldom, if ever, been known to fail.—New York Post.

Good Liniment.

You will hunt a good while before you find a preparation that is equal to Chamberlain's Liniment as a cure for muscular and rheumatic pains, for the cure of sprains and soreness of the muscles. Careful For Others.

"No," said the candid kleptomaniac; "when I'm arrested for pilfering I never give my real name. It would compromise too many people."

"Indeed! And what is your name?" inquired the magistrate.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
stops the cough and heals lungs

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Women's Ailments.

I am a woman. I know woman's sufferings. I have found the cure. I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—your mother, your sister, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or White discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths; also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles, when caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment free of cost, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which usually and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment, also the book. Write today, as you may not see this offer again. Address
